

I'm sure that you have heard of both of these services and you may even use these to some extent. It might have been some time since they were introduced and perhaps it's time to review how they are used?

In recent times a number of improvements have been made;

- A shortening of the processing time
- One off Direct Debits
- The extension of the PDD service to include the internet and automated telephony

The documents supplied to assist you in joining these services are complex and cover many eventualities. Why not let me unpick the key issues and work with you to achieve a successful transition?

My newsletter below on this page gives an outline of the AUDDIS/PDD service but for more information please email or ring
