

You may be surprised to know that we do not have any training programmes!! This is because each one of our sessions is based on what YOU the client requires.

We therefore format the training around

- Your systems
- Your processes
- Your requirements
- Your people
- Your premises and at
- Your convenience

This means that we take time to find out what you do and how you do it before any training schedule is formatted. This in itself often throws up hidden benefits in perhaps how you undertake your business.

We limit the number of attendees at each session to ensure that everyone has the opportunity to fully participate and to gain maximum benefit from the workshop.

The sessions will be up to date and relevant and will also benefit from the experiences of the attendees.

Finally we appreciate the BACS and Direct Debits are not the most exciting issues in the world! We therefore carefully plan our sessions to be a maximum of 2 hours in length. This not only ensures good attention but also fits around the requirements of a busy office.

A day's training often works out at no more than £50 per attendee which for most people represents tremendous value.

As evidence of my services one of my clients wrote to a third party recommending our services as follows;

‘We found them very useful. The consultancy was tailor-made, a very personal service. The after-care service we received was excellent and we continued to get telephoned advice long after the consultancy had ended. Company B also used them and were very pleased too’
